WHEAT POOL CORRECTS FALSE RUMORS

The Alberta Wheat Pool has issued the following statement with reference to rumors concerning the organization which have been circulating in many newspapers for the past few weeks:

"Statements emanating from various sources to the effect that the Wheat Pool has an enormous carry-over from the 1927 crop and is in a 'blue funk' because of the large volume of new crop to be delivered within the next few months are ridiculously inaccurate. Neither is the Wheat Pool thinking of running to cover under the protecting wing of any government.

"The estimates of the Wheat Pool carry-over have been placed in certain newspapers as that of anything up to 70,000,000 bushels. As a matter of fact the Wheat Pool carry-over this year will not be any larger than that of last year, and possibly less.

"It is true that the Canadian wheat crop will be large this year, but such ridiculous estimates as that of 700, 000,000 bushels which was recently wired from Winnipeg to Chicago are entirely uncalled for and do a great deal of damage. As a matter of fact the crop may not exceed that of last year and outrageous estimates only tend to lower prices.

"The Pool handled last year's crop in spite of the damaged condition of a large percentage of it, in a capable and efficient manner. There are no grounds for the belief that it will not handle the forthcoming crop in an even more efficient way. Pool members can rest assured that their organization is functioning smoothly, and that they will get the very best average price obtainable for their wheat. There is no reason for members becoming panicky.

"The Wheat Pool is entering their second contract period in very considerable strength. Undoubtedly the membership will be increased very rapidly during the next few months. Five years of operation has given the Pool directors and officials invaluable experience and it is only reasonable to expect that each succeeding year more efficiency will be attained."

In the photograph below is seen Don Carrick, amateur boxing champion, in the gymnasium on board the "Empress of Scotland" sparring with the liner's physical instructor. Both he and other members of the Canadian Olympic team aboard the vessel frequented the "gym" to keep fit, and found the exercises, combined with the sea air, put them in top shape by the time they reached the other side.

Burnside Local Forms Junior U.F.A.

August 18th saw a well filled house at Lone Pine Hall when Burnside local called their regular meeting.

The major part of the evening was given over to Mr. Alfred Speakman, M.P. whom the large crowd considered it a pleasure and privilege to hear. Mr. Speakman being in the finest of trim gave a very pleasing address on the ancient customs of farming and modern civilization.

At the conclusion of this part of the meeting a Junior U.F.A. local was organized assisted by the President, G. A. Burns, and acting Secretary N. Eckel following a well received and detailed report of the Alberta Institute of Co-Operation held in Edmonton the last week in June, by Dave Jenkins.

The following officers were elected:

Hon. Pres., G. A. Burns; Pres., Dave Jenkins; Vice-Pres., Alice Richardson; Sec.-Treas., Annie McCulloch; Directors, Mary McCulloch, Marvel Shiels, Jessie McCulloch, Gus Bitner, Dave Hughes, Bob McCulloch.

After a nice lunch the meeting adjourned.

Building and Improvements on Local Roads

Another new bungalow has been added to Didsbury. It is almost completed and reflects credit on the owner and builder, Bob Cunningham.

Knox Church is slowly but surely nearing completion. It has taken the true form of a church edifice since the major part of the construction has been completed and no doubt when finished will be not only a credit to its members but to the town as well.

A splendid improvement on the thoroughfare on Hiebert street for two blocks extending to the north road is worthy of mention. The road in front of Teskey's garage has been built up considerably together with better drainage.

Harvesting Operations in Full Swing Next Week

The wheat crop in this district is in fine condition, and although cutting has commenced in isolated cases it will not be general until the first part of next week. It is estimated that the average yield will be around 30 bushels to the acre.

The cutting of barley has been general throughout the district during the past week.

Farm help thus far is very scarce, every day some farmer in town for help returns home disappointed.

Challenge Cup for Best Wheatfield in Alberta

The Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture, is offering a Grand Challenge Cup to be competed for by first prize winners in Field Crop Competitions held in Alberta during this year. The judging of all these competitions will be completed in a few days, after which the Challenge Cups offered by the Edmonton Board of Trade and Calgary Board of Trade will be decided upon. Keen interest has already been taken in these contests, and the announcement of the winner of the Grand Challenge Cup will be eagerly awaited.

An Important Experiment

Bringing ten thousand of the vast army of unemployed British miners to assist in harvesting Western Canada's 1928 grain crops is an experiment on a large scale that will be watched with great interest and sympathy not only in Canada and Britain, but throughout the Empire. That it is an experiment confronted by many difficulties and not free from dangers is fully recognized, but in view of Canada's present need for harvest hands, and Britain's serious and apparently unsolvable problem of unemployment, it is one well worth while.

Unquestionably there has arisen a feeling in the Old Land that Canada, with its sparse population and great areas of vacant lands and enormous undeveloped natural resources, ought to come to the relief of Britain and the British people through the acceptance of large numbers of the unemployed, and that in doing so this Dominion would not only render a real service to these workers and the Empire but would ultimately be well repaid through the infusion of so much British blood into the cosmopolitan citizenship of this country.

In Canada itself there are men more or less prominent in the life of the country who are critical of the immigration now coming into the Dominion and who loudly demand that settlers from the British Isles be given a preference over all others, even to the extent of excluding those of other than British birth.

Opposed to these groups is a large body of Canadian opinion which holds that it would be a mistake not only for Canada but for Britain to bring into this Dominion large numbers of the British unemployed who lack the fitness and qualifications which would enable them to make successful citizens in this newer land. As the Minister of Labor recently pointed out, it would be no kindness to bring unemployed men from Britain unless there is employment for them here, and that no good service would be rendered the Empire by lessening the number of unemployed in Britain and creating an acute unemployment situation in Canada.

It is recognized, too, that in Canada employment is subject to seasonal changes, and that even under the most favorable and prosperous conditions a measure of unemployment is inevitable during the winter months. Winter employment is at low ebb in the cities and larger towns during the winter, and unless winter employment on the farms can be secured for them, British immigrants might fare badly, through no fault of their own, or the fault of anybody else. Between April and November, the situation is entirely different with farm work, railway construction, building operations and municipal improvements and works of all kinds under way. December to March is the critical period.

Under the arrangement whereby these ten thousand unemployed British miners are coming to work in the harvest fields, it is provided that the Canadian authorities will do everything in their power to secure winter farm employment for them, but that all those who cannot be so placed, or prefer to return to Britain, must be returned.

For the sake of these men first and foremost, and for the sake of Canada and Britain secondly, it is to be hoped that by far the greater number will be placed in all-the-year round employment. Canada wants these Britishers, and they should be accorded a hearty welcome and every possible chance to make good. In any mass movement of population there is bound to be a number of misfits, chronic grouseurs and hopeless incompetents, but the experiment being made should not be judged by these exceptions, but by the measure of success attending the movement as a whole.

Harvest time in the West is a time of stress. It is a strenuous period, when everybody is obliged to work long hours. It is a time when the farmer, anxious to secure in safety the results of a year's labor, is apt to be impatient and exacting, and to these miners unused to long hours and engaged in unfamiliar work, the farmer may appear to be a hard taskmaster. There must be a recognition of these differences and difficulties on both sides. The harvest hand should strive to realize to the full his own inexperience and shortcomings in his new environment and exert himself to the utmost to give satisfaction and make good. The farmer employer, on the other hand, should exercise a maximum of patience and endeavor to teach these men and bring out the best in them in the hope and expectation of encouraging them to do their best and inducing in them a real liking for Canada and a determination to remain and make a success of life in this country.

Farmers, too, should co-operate to the fullest extent possible with the Dominion and Provincial Governments in finding winter employment for his best and make good, arrangements should, if possible be made to retain him throughout the winter and until work becomes plentiful in the spring of the new year.

Judicially handled, and with everybody striving to do his best, this experiment with British miners may well prove to be a turning point in the history of immigration to Canada. The British Government is now training an additional 21,000 miners and their families for agricultural life in the Dominions. If the coming ten thousand harvesters make a success of their undertaking, and if the Canadian people unitedly help them to do so, this country will undoubtedly receive the bulk of these other 21,000 partially trained men and women. Canada wants them, and our people should do everything in reason to encourage them to come here.

The present movement presents a golden opportunity, therefore, to those who have been outspoken in their criticism of past immigration efforts from Britain. It is now up to them to throw themselves with equal vigor into the task of finding permanent work for the thousands who are now or shortly will be in our midst.

Ten Thousand Acres Of Farming Land Purchased In Wainwright District

What is stated to be the largest land deal ever consummated in Northern Alberta was completed here when the Mid-West Development and Finance Corporation purchased 10,000 acres of choice farming land in the Wainwright District at a price of $200,000. There are 3,000 acres under cultivation and the land is laid out in twenty units which are being rented by progressive farmers.

ST. VITUS DANCE

A Trouble That Usually Attacks Young Children

St. Vitus Dance is the name generally given to a disease described by medical men as chorea. This trouble usually attacks young children, though older people may be afflicted with it. The most common symptoms are a twitching of the face and limbs. As the disease progresses the twitching takes the form of spasms, in which the jerking motion may be confined to the face or all the limbs may be affected. Frequently the patient is unable to hold anything in the hands or walk steadily. In severe cases the speech is often affected. The disease is due to debility of the nerves and relief comes through an enriched blood supply.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been most successful in reaching this trouble through their specific action on the blood, which it enriches and purifies. The following instance proves the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in this trouble. Mrs. Thomas Bowen, Bath, Ont., says:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been in use in my family for years and always with good results. I believe they saved the life of my only son. At ten years of age he grew very nervous and the trouble developed into St. Vitus Dance. His legs and arms would jerk and twitch, then his speech was affected, and his condition was pitiable. Just then there came to me a little book telling of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to give them to him. By the time two boxes were used there was an improvement in his condition and by the time six boxes more were taken all traces of the trouble had disappeared, and he was well and strong. I have also given the pills to my growing girls, and I know of no better strengthening medicine. I may add that the same applies to grown-ups as well."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Travelling Clinic

Government Clinic Pays Visit To Peace River District

A Government travelling clinic has been operating in the Peace River District this season. At five population centres a total of 314 children were examined in 10 days. A total of 124 minor operations were performed, 279 children given dental examinations, 144 extractions performed, and other dental treatment given to 128 children.

Miller's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation to destroy stomachic and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They act thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases they may cause vomiting, that is an indication of their powerful action and not of any nauseating property.

In the first two months, May and June, in which the three-cent gasoline tax was in force in Saskatchewan, $325,000 was collected, it was officially announced. Laying Heavy Steel Rails

C.P.R. Replacing Rails With Heavier Steel On Maple Creek and Brooks Subdivisions

Good progress is being made with the relaying of steel on the Canadian Pacific lines in the Calgary division during the past few months. One hundred and thirty-five miles of new rail has been laid on the Maple Creek subdivision, that is between Medicine Hat and Swift Current, while the relaying is now going on in the Brooks subdivision, between Calgary and Medicine Hat.

The relaying consisted of the replacement of 80 and 85 pound steel by rails weighing 100 pounds per foot. The heavier rail is necessary in view of the increased speed of the trains and their greater weight.

As mentioned above, 135 miles of heavy rail have been laid on the Maple Creek subdivision. On the Brooks subdivision the mileage of heavy steel will be about 130. It is estimated that the cost of relaying the track is approximately $1,000,000 per hundred miles, thus the work on the Calgary division this year will cost the Canadian Pacific Railway a total of about $2,065,000.

Water Power Installation

Two Million Horsepower To Be Added Within Next Few Years

Two million horsepower will, it is estimated by the department of the interior, be added to the water power installation in the Dominion within the next few years. This new work will require a direct investment of at least $200,000,000.

The annual statement of the Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, with regard to the progress of water power development issued at the beginning of the year predicted an addition of 378,000 horsepower to the total installation in the Dominion during the first six or seven months of 1928. A mid-season review of conditions now indicates that during the whole year as much as 550,000 H.P. will be added, either in new development or in addition to existing stations.

Message From Amundsen

Believe Note Found In Bottle To Be In Handwriting Of Lost Explorer

London.—Despatches to the Daily Mail from The Hague state that the Norwegian Minister-at Amsterdam announced an apparently genuine message from Roald Amundsen, noted explorer who was lost while participating in the expeditions seeking the crew of the wrecked Polar dirigible Italia, had been found in a bottle near Rottumeroog.

The message, which was compared with Amundsen's handwriting and was said to be authentic, gave the position of the explorer and his party on July 1.

Rottumeroog is in the Netherland Islands in the North Sea.

Amundsen and four companions have been missing since they started in a French seaplane to search for the Italia party.

Receives Re-Appointment

Dr. McLean To Be Assistant Chief Commissioner Of Rail Board

Ottawa.—Dr. Simon J. McLean, Ottawa, has been re-appointed assistant chief commissioner of the board of railway commissioners. Dr. McLean's term of office expired August 6, and his re-appointment is for a further period of ten years. Dr. McLean was originally appointed to the board in 1908.

The term of Commissioner Frank Oliver will terminate toward the end of September, when Mr. Oliver will have reached the age limit of 75 years.

Dr. McLean drafted the Dominion Railway Act, and his re-appointment for a third term creates a precedent. Since the formation of the Board of Railway Commissioners in 1904, Dr. McLean has been the only commissioner to be re-appointed after expiration of the ten-year term.

While no official statement has been made in the matter, it is rumored that legislation may possibly be introduced at the next session of Parliament providing for the superannuation of members of the board.

To Take Care Of British Harvesters

Effort Will Be Made To Provide Permanent Work Throughout Winter

Saskatoon, Sask.—If the British miners who are coming to the west to work in the harvest fields do not obtain permanent work throughout the winter it will not be the fault of the railway companies or want of effort on their part.

No stone will be left unturned to try to keep these men here and in the opinion of T. Devlin, local manager of the Canadian National colonization department, future immigration from the British Isles depends largely on the success or failure of this venture.

Mr. Devlin said that he could see no reason why the project should not prove an outstanding success. "The men who are coming are by no means strangers to hard work and they know just as much about farm work as the average harvester from Eastern Canada," he says.

The claims are located south of the Foley mine of British-Canadian Mines, Ltd., and east of Little Vermilion Lake.

"A mining engineer returning from the scene of the strike says that the ore taken from the surface is glittering with visible gold which would run thousands of dollars to the ton, and is said to equal or even eclipse the remarkable find made on the Isabella property of Northern Red Lake Mines, Ltd., reported several weeks ago.

Contributions received to date include $135,000 worth of equipment and $237,513 in cash.

The total expense of Commander Byrd's North Pole expedition in 1926 was $140,000.

The four men, who have been almost given up as dead for the past six weeks, have been reprovisioned and given new equipment for the trail. They are now headed along the route through Neultin Lakes and smaller bodies of water and down the Thlewiaza River to Hudson Bay. They are expected to emerge near Driftwood Point, halfway between Chesterfield Inlet, their first objective, and Fort Churchill.

Hope For Peaceful Relations

Kellogg Peace Pact a Revolutionary Policy Among Nations

Wausau, Wis.—Within a fortnight of the date on which the international treaty for outlawing war is to be signed, President Coolidge declared before the Wisconsin State American Legion here, that the Kellogg pact "holds a greater hope for peaceful relations than was ever before given to the world."

The President maintained that by taking a leading position in securing this agreement, the United States proved its pacific inclinations toward all nations.

"We have demonstrated," Mr. Coolidge declared, "that when we have said we maintained our armaments, not for aggression, but purely for defence, we were making a candid statement which we were willing to verify by our actions."

Th President said that while "it would be too much to suppose that war had been entirely banished, yet a new and important barrier, reasonable and honorable," has been created to bar it.

"This agreement proposes a revolutionary policy among nations," he said. "It holds a greater hope for peaceful relations than was ever before given to the world. If those who are involved in it, having started it, will finish it, its provisions will prove one of the greatest blessings ever bestowed upon humanity. It is a fitting consummation to the first decade of peace."

Influenza In the North

Serious Epidemic Has Broken Out In Mackenzie River District

Winnipeg.—A serious epidemic of influenza has broken out along the banks of the Mackenzie River with considerable loss of life, according to a letter received from Rev. W. B. Singleton, principal of the Hay River Indian school of the Indian and Eskimo mission of the Missionary Society of the Church of England.

At Fort Resolution, where Slave River flows into Slave Lake, 20 deaths were reported. At Hay River, towards the west end of the lake, there were ten deaths. The toll of deaths at other points was thought to be even greater, the letter stated.

The Manitoba Division, Dominion Department of Indian Affairs, had received no information of any epidemic in this province.

SPIRITED FIGHT ON LAKE ERIE WITH RUM FLEET

Buffalo.—The struggle for supremacy between the rum running fleet on the Niagara River and Lake Erie blazed into spirited action in which government boats set afire and sank one craft and captured two others carrying contraband liquor and ale.

At Niagara below the Falls a speedy boat carrying many cases of both whiskey and ale fell into the hands of the federal patrol.

Earlier in the day the C.G. 121 sighted a suspicious looking craft off Brocton, on Lake Erie. A chase followed during which the government boat fired 50 rounds.

After the gun fire had set the rum runner ablaze the coastguard boat took off the crew of two men and stood by while the damaged craft burned to the water's edge.

The other boat was caught on Lake Erie, off Barcelona. Three hundred rounds were fired at it before the crew decided to heave to and surrender. Two men and a small quantity of liquor were found.

Toronto Professor Says Pool Has Revolutionized Morale Of Farming Community

Williamstown, Mass.—Agricultural co-operation is not merely a marketing device but a means of lifting the farmer to a plane of greater prosperity and keeping him there, Prof. C. R. Fay, of the University of Toronto, told the Institute of Politics here.

"In Canada," he said, "the wheat pool has revolutionized the morale of the farming community, relieving the farmer of the difficulty of deciding when to sell, eliminating the pressure to sell at certain seasons, and basing all farm marketing on statistical knowledge."

The co-operative system he declared, is of special benefit to the small farmers, whose plane of living has been raised to the highest level it ever reached.

In the United States the government's attitude toward the farmer's problems is one of encouragement through active assistance in research and educational facilities, C. L. Christensen, chief of the department of co-operative marketing of the department of agriculture, said.

All Bitterness Forgotten

Remarkable Tolerance Is Shown In Irish Free State

Victoria, B.C.—Right Hon. Hugh Kennedy, chief justice of Ireland and honorary member of American and Canadian Bar Associations, was the guest-speaker at the Canadian Cub luncheon here.

"We had a fight with England but that fight terminated in a treaty of peace, and a reconciliation was reached which I believe has wiped out the rancor which existed in the past," the chief justice said.

One of the first steps in the reorganization of the country was placing agriculture on a firm basis, as agriculture for years to come would continue as the foundation of prosperity in Ireland, he said.

He said that the Free State had shown a remarkable degree of toleration with the test of religion never entering into politics. As an example, he referred to the fact that the minister of finance was a Presbyterian from an Orange county.

Montreal Garment Workers Quit

Montreal.—Twelve hundred employees and 70 work shops in Montreal are affected by the present "stoppage" of work of local members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America. It is not spoken of as a strike by union officials because not all the shops of the city are affected. Speedy termination of the dispute is expected.

Mine Blast Is Fatal

Calgary.—L. L. Johnson, for years chairman of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment at Calgary, was instantly killed when a charge of dynamite exploded prematurely in Mr. Johnson's mine at Dodds, Alta., according to information received here.

come to us the warning that money carries germs. Germ experts even went so far as to demonstrate that a bank clerk's occupation was particularly hazardous because he handles so much money. But now this dread has been dispelled. After exhaustive investigation on the subject of money as germ carriers two Illinois University experts assure us that this danger has been greatly exaggerated. It seems that the metals from which coins are made act as destroyers of bacteria.

This relieves us of the worry connected with the handling of money. The next thing for some expert to do is to tell us how we may be relieved of our worries in trying to get hold of it.

In perusing the files of the Pioneer of some years back we came across the following, published August 28, 1908:

"At last the Council are taking definite steps to look into fire protection matters after dallying with the question for nearly two years. While the Fire, Light and Water Committee may be to blame to a great extent, the whole Council are held responsible to the people of Didsbury for the way things have been conducted in this important matter, and rightly so. It will take at least six months or more to get things in working order and if a fire should take place and great damage result they would be to blame. We hope that now they have got started again they will keep going until some system is installed that will at least give us partial protection."

Shortly before the appearance of the above article the Town Council was made an offer by a well-known machinery concern with a branch office at Calgary, of a complete waterworks system, including tank, hydrants, pipe, engine, etc., excepting the labor involved for installation for $10,000.00.

Preparations appeared to have been made to bring in the experts, but it fell through, apparently, because we are still without that water system.

There was a chance passed up in 1908 to put Didsbury on the map as a modern town. Who knows but what we would have three times the population today that we already possess? To install the same plant today will possibly cost twice as much. Labor is costlier.

We do not know the circumstances of this particular proposition in 1908, but we feel the Town Council at that time has not given us, living in 1928, a square deal.

The writer of the above quoted editorial saw the danger from a conflagration. Was he right? Didsbury has been wiped out twice so far in its existence. It now possesses more modern business houses but there are yet plenty of old frame structures to fall victim an easy prey for flames.

The installation of an up-to-date waterworks system will not only reduce the fire hazard, but it is a necessary utility in a growing town.

Unfortunately Didsbury has not a Board of Trade to debate and press such subjects as these. Public opinion must be roused. There will be those who say they have got along well so far without it. There are those who have given the subject some thought but fear a tax increase. What we want now is a detailed investigation, a comprehensive study of the matter. Who is going to start the ball rolling?

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY

There is always more or less worry connected with money. Those of us who do not have it worry about getting it, and those of us who have it are often put to a great deal of worry in hanging on to it. In addition to this no little worry is brought on by the desire to make a jitney grow where only a penny grew before. It seems as though poets and philosophers have conspired to bring money into disrepute, so anxious are they to tell us that the mere possession of it is a great burden.

Travelling in Europe for about ten dollars a day, putting overseas travel on a par with a normal holiday at home, is made possible for the American tourist by the happy combination of Tourist Third Cabin Class on the magnificent Atlantic fleet of the Canadian Pacific Steamships and the tours arranged in the old world by the Arts Crafts Guild of Chicago. It is shown by the figures released by these companies.

The creation of this new class of ocean travel on Canadian Pacific vessels has made travel possible for many thousands who have been unable to consider fulfilling their hopes, and during the past few years it has become fully established in popularity. The economy effected by this class of ocean passage makes a comprehensive European tour possible for every traveller, who during the Atlantic voyage enjoys surroundings and comforts equal to those until recently associated only with first class accommodation. Staterooms are above the water line, each with hot and cold running water, and the public rooms—card rooms, drawing rooms, smoking rooms, dining saloons,—are commodious and tastefully furnished. Orchestras are carried for special entertainments and dancing. These take place on the broad promenade decks or within doors.

Itineraries ranging from thirty-two to seventy-three days in extent, including the ocean passage, are possible for the traveller under the Continental Collegiate Tours organized by the Arts Crafts Guild of Chicago. The charm of these tours is realized right from the start, for during the thousand mile journey down the mighty St. Lawrence and through the Gulf the boats pass scenery rivalling that of any river trip in the old world for beauty and picturesque.

Once overseas there is nothing of importance or interest missed by the tours of the Guild. In England they include the Shakespeare country and London; in the "Low Countries," the best of Belgium and Holland; in Germany, the Rhine and her great centres; in France, Paris—of course—and the lovely Riviera with Monte Carlo in its midst; in Switzerland, the Alps; to the south the cities of sunny Italy and romantic Spain; and to the north, in the "Land of the Midnight Sun," Norway and Sweden. Everything in fact that the traveller is anxious to see may be visited on these tours.

For these three festival days the Indian is lord of all he surveys, and all through the village of Banff and in and around the famous Banff Springs Hotel the scene resembles a veritable monster Indian camp. The event that probably led up to the adoption of Indian Days occurred in July 1889 when rail traffic, both east and west of Banff was tied up for a period of ten days, as heavy rains had washed out the tracks in both directions. The Banff Springs Hotel, then but a small structure, was crowded with tourists who found time hung heavily on their hands.

What is today the main road to the hotel was on that occasion staked off as a race track, the winning post being placed at the hotel entrance. Every form of race and sport known to the Indians was held, in addition to many suggested by the white spectators. Altogether the visit of the Indians was a marvellous success, and it ultimately led to the establishment in 1907 of an annual Indian Day, which in time grew into the continent-wide advertised Indian Days. The Indians look forward to these days with the greatest enthusiasm and early on in the year start counting "only so many days now till we go to Banff". The Indian village of a hundred teepees is, as said before, located at the foot of Cascade Mountain for this festival, and is semi-circular in form, each band of the tribe having a section to themselves. Rations are served directly the Indian village is in shape. The Government donates three buffalo annually to the Indians, and the first one of these is then shot by a game guardian and quickly cut up by the redskin butchers. So skilled and speedy are the few Indian butchers employed, that within thirty minutes after the shot is fired, there is not a vestige left of what was once a lordly animal weighing approximately one ton.

Increasing alarm is being expressed over the unemployment situation in Great Britain, with 1,300,000 men out of work.

HE DIDN'T THINK DYSENTERY COULD BE RELIEVED

Mr. John Melling, Fenner, Alta., writes:—"I am a returned soldier, and when I came home from overseas I suffered greatly with dysentery. The doctor said it was chronic and did not think it could be relieved. However, he doctored me for quite a while, but did me no good. One day the druggist asked me if I had ever tried

"On his recommendation I bought a bottle and after I had taken it got some relief, so I got two more, and have never had the dysentery since 1925."

Farmers' Marketing Tour

Canadian National Railways' Tour To Great Britain and Denmark, 1928

We were now in the home of the Clydesdales, and a call by Mr. Weir, from Newcastle, in the morning had brought a pressing invitation from Messrs. A. & N. Templeton, of Sandy Knowe, near Kelso, to visit them. This took a section of our party to see the great horse "Benefactor" and some of his progeny as well as the Border Leicester flock of Messrs. Templeton and here we had our first taste of Scottish hospitality. The brothers with their sisters and mother entertained us royally to a delightful tea and the "wee drapple" was not missing. Ours was a great privilege because the afternoon was lovely and from the high ground at Sandy Knowe the eye can roam for twenty to thirty miles in every direction over the beautiful Scottish countryside. Our visit over, we continued our journey to Edinburgh enlivening the night with old familiar songs.

The "main body" had gone on, passing through Dalkeith at dusk, awakening many memories for one of the members of our party, Mr. James Walker, representing the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto, who was born in this pleasant Scottish town. Evening found us in Edinburgh, comfortably established in the North British Hotel, overlooking the famous Princes Street.

From Melrose we had sent a challenge to meet the best curling rink in Scotland, the aspiring rink being our friends from Deloraine, Manitoba, but unfortunately a game could not be secured owing to its being Saturday.

Our first engagement was to visit the Clydesdale Stud at Portobello, of Mr. Robert Park, owner among other notable stock of "Brunstane Again" and "Brunstane Phyllis," both of which, along with a number of fine colts, were shown for our benefit. To our astonishment all these animals, including the great stallion, were put through their paces by Mr. Park's twin daughters, girls of seventeen, whose competent horsemanship delighted us all, as did their modesty. Mr. Park is no believer in "fancy" Clydesdales, but prefers to breed for scale and power, and we listened with respect to his views as he expounded his breeding principles.

Mr. Park took us into his home, "Brunstane House." Here Mrs. Park and her daughters entertained us to high tea in the room where the final committee meeting was said to have been held when the Union of Scotland and England was decided in 1707. The room is eight-sided and contains a 14th century fireplace. But a few eyes were turned to the great sideboard on which were two Cawdor Cups, both won in the same year by sire and daughter—"Brunstane Again" and "Brunstane Phyllis."

A trip to the famous Forth Bridge, reminding us so much of our own Quebec Bridge, completed our first day in Edinburgh.

Leaving for Stirling at 8 a.m. en route for Perth, we were treated to a taste of Highland weather, for snow began to fall by the time we reached Stirling Castle. This forbidding stronghold, perched high on a dominating rock overlooking the plain beneath, is interesting at any time, but seen through a Scottish mist and falling snow, it was doubly fascinating, notwithstanding that we were robbed of the view of the field of Bannockburn. Taken and retaken, this grey building, calm enough today, has withstood many sieges. Within its walls were born James II, IV, and V, of Scotland, and here were crowned James V, Mary and James VI, of Scotland, afterwards First of England.

We walked the courts and trod the battlements. We examined with some wonder the window of the Douglas Room where the rebellious Earl was stabbed to death by James II. In 1452. We left with the influence of those fiercely stirring times still upon us, to view in front of the castle the noble statue of Robert the Bruce, where, his voice thrilling with pride, a small boy with his sister told us of Scotland's glorious days, excelling in this the guide to the Castle itself.

Next we came to the wonderful Wallace Monument, a great granite tower, four square, 220 feet in height and standing 520 feet above the level of the Forth. In a niche on the west corner stands a bronze statue of Wallace, measuring 15 feet from heel to helmet, to the tip of the sword 21 feet, and raised 50 feet above the doorway—a noble figure, sword on high, summoning his followers. Those of us who climbed the inside spiral stairway of 246 steps were amply recompensed. The inner chambers are noted among other things for a wonderful echo and in one of them, the Hall of Heroes, lies the double-edged sword of Wallace, 4 feet 4 inches long in the blade which narrows from 2 1/4 inches to 1 inch. The leather mounted hilt is 12 inches long and has a two inchommel. For six centuries Wallace's sword lay in Dumbarton Castle, being transferred to the Monument by Hugh R. Wallace, of Glencairn Castle, his lineal descendant.

Snow still falling, we arrived in Perth, the pretty, ancient city by the Tay. Perth is not a big city but its charm is instant. Moreover its fame as a livestock centre is world wide. For many years it has been the most important centre in Britain for the selling by public auction of pedigree Shorthorn and Aberdeen-Angus cattle and our arrival coincided with the biggest sale of the year.

Following lunch and a warm welcome by Lord Provost Dempster, we were soon watching with critical eyes the judging and street parade of cattle, noting with admiration the high average of quality prior to taking our places next day in the auction room.

Accommodation in Perth was so taxed by the sale that nearly half our party had to spend the night in Dundee, an opportunity of seeing the Jute City which was appreciated.

Back in Perth we had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Lovat Fraser, the greatest livestock auctioneer in Great Britain: Mr. Fraser frequently sells pedigree stock at 50 animals per hour for several hours at a stretch. He did not belie his fame, for animal after animal was sold during the half day that was available to us. The lesson of the sale, so far as we Canadian farmers were concerned, was the excellent quality of stock that was sold at distinctly reasonable prices.

The sensation of the sale was the fetching of 3,500 guineas by Captain John MacGillivray's Supreme Champion, "Calrossie Double Event" which was bought by Mr. James Eidey, the well-known exporter to the Argentine.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PAUL AT PHILIPPI

Golden Text: "Rejoice in the Lord always: again I will say, Rejoice."—Philippians 4.4.

Lesson: Acts 16:16-40.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 55:6-13.

Explanations and Comments

The Second Christian Convert In Philippi, verses 16-18.—Paul was greatly disturbed at Philippi by a fortune-telling maid who kept following him and Silas and crying, "These men are servants of the Most High God, who proclaim unto you the way of salvation." Professor Ramsay thinks that the slave girl's mind had become distorted and diseased by her belief in her supernatural possession, but was all the more acute in certain perceptions and intuitions, and that she had become alive to the normal influence which the intense faith of the strangers gave them.

The girl followed Paul and Silas for many days, and her reiterated chant drew a crowd of curiosity seekers. Paul was "sore troubled," and at length he turned to her, and in the name of Jesus Christ bade the spirit leave her, and she became wholly normal. Nothing further is told about this girl whose story arouses our sympathy. One writer expresses his belief that "She would partake of the generous help of Lydia and of the other Christian women at Philippi, who would see in her no longer a bond-servant of the men who had domination over her, but a sister beloved in the Lord."

RESCUES TRANS-ATLANTIC FLYERS

Buffeted about by waves in their fragile seaplane in mid-Atlantic, Capt. Frank T. Courtney, E. B. Hosmer, of Montreal, son of a former Dominion-wide financier, his financial backer, Fred Price, mechanic, and E. W. Gilmour, of Glasgow, wireless operator were succored by the Atlantic Transport liner Minnewaska a few days ago. Capt. Courtney and the other three were attempting a flight from the Azores to Newfoundland, when their machine fell in flames into the sea. By the aid of their small radio set the Minnewaska found them after she left her course to go to their aid. The Minnewaska reached New York on August 6 with the rescued fliers. Was Eminent Western Counsel

C. C. McCaul, K.C., Prominent Lawyer, Dies At His Home In Edmonton

Long prominent as one of Western Canada's most brilliant lawyers and a pioneer of forty-five years' standing, C. C. McCaul, K.C., aged 70, died at his home in Edmonton, recently, after a lingering illness.

Legal and business circles were shocked upon learning of the death of the eminent counsel, one who had taken a leading part in some of the most important cases heard in the Dominion. Known and held in high regard in the prairie provinces, in British Columbia and in the far away Yukon, where he was one of the hardy pioneers who went through the gold rush, C. C. McCaul had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

From 1883 to 1888, Mr. McCaul practiced law at Fort Macleod and then he removed to Lethbridge, where he established a law partnership with F. W. H. Haultain, who had opened a law office in Macleod in 1884, and later became chief justice of the Northwest Territories.

"Here are Helmi's letters," at length said Warner; "they belong to you now. They will tell you everything. If we both get over I will take them back, after you have read them. I think if I had had a wife like Helmi I would not have doubted her. I don't think I would. However I am not saying that to hurt you—no one knows what he would do. Anyway I am glad I met you, Jack. And your wife is well and so is little Lili."

"And so you see you must get through. I may, but you must, and if you do you will tell Helmi. Come on—our chance is just as good now as it ever will be."

Jack took his hand and pressed it. "Arthur, I can't tell you what I want to say—you have been a better friend to Helmi than I have."

The bridge was a fine iron one, with heavily studded pillars. Every second light was burning. The road leading to it was not much travelled, and as they walked up the long approach their feet made a strange echoing sound. They had left their blue overcoats open, showing the gray German smocks. Jack knew what he was to say in German if accosted, but their hope was that no one was on the bridge. Every step brought them nearer, and the lights ahead of them on the Holland side twinkled like the lights at home.

Jack's heart was in a strange turmoil over what he had heard. On, on—they were half-way over now... steps echoing, echoing... no sound but the gentle murmurings from the other side, gentle sounds... dogs barking... cow-bells... they must hurry... on, on... ten feet from the end now! Suddenly from behind the last pillar stepped out a German guard, who thrust a flashlight in their faces, blinding them with its sudden gleam. At the end of his rifle a bayonet gleamed in the light.

"Halt!" he cried.

"Why do you halt us? We are honest men," said Arthur quietly. "Give me your passports, then."

Helped by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Grainland, Sask.—"I am glad that I heard of that good Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and I will not be without it again. I was so sick that I could not work at all and could not sew on the machine. My aunt told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am telling all of my friends how good it is and I will answer all letters I get from women."

said the guard, putting away his flashlight, but not lowering his rifle.

Pretending to search his pockets, Arthur moved a little, then like a tiger he sprang on the guard, grasping him around the neck.

"I'll hold him, Jack!" he shouted. "Beat it! you're safe! Beat it!"

Jack found refuge in the trees on the other bank. There was a queer singing in his head, something drowning like a swarm of bees. Then came a sudden pain in his shoulder like a knife thrust, and looking down, he saw the blood running off his fingers.

But he must see what happened. He crawled to the edge of the trees and looked back. Three guards were standing together, talking excitedly. He could see nothing of Arthur, but the smoke of rifles still hung around the pillars of the bridge. He crawled back into the trees and lay on the damp leaves, sobbing like a child. He was free; he was safe; but the loss of his friend was heavy on his heart.

CHAPTER XXXI.

It was a hot night in London in the early spring. The lights shone ghostly blue through their painted globes, and across the starless night search-lights stretched their spectral fingers, crossing, passing, converging, crossing again. Through the streets, in spite of the sombre gloom and the dangers of the night, an endless stream of people drifted, making a brave show of unconcern. The theatres were crowded, the dance halls echoed with rhythmic feet, and tinkled with laughter; and although grief, fear, and a sense of loss walked with every soul in London, the sound of their ominous footfalls were drowned by laughter and singing, true to the brave old British tradition.

At Victoria Station the V.A.D.'s were assembled with their waiting stretchers, for a hospital train was coming in. There were the usual noises of a great station—hooting of sirens, blowing of horns, calling of railway officials—all the sounds multiplied by the vaulted station roof. There was the usual variegated and cosmopolitan crowd, though the dominant note was the khaki of the thick-set, calm-faced Englishman; here the slim Canadian, independent and alert, actually looking for some one, and not ashamed of appearing anxious; there the blue-uniformed French officer, darting through the crowd like a gorgeous bluebird.

They are removing men on stretchers now, and the V.A.D.'s are busy. Very skilfully they manage to roll the bedcases to the stretchers and carry them to the waiting ambulances—pallid faces, all of them, some bandaged, but most of them smiling bravely, too, and glad to be home.

There is one V.A.D. looking very slim in her blue serge uniform who works feverishly. She is returning with an empty when she meets the walking cases coming out of their coach, some on crutches, some being helped by companions, arms in slings, bandaged faces, but all on their feet.

She stops with a cry of gladness. "Jack, oh, Jack!" she cries, as a young man with his arm in a sling is passing "Jack—it's Eva—don't you know me?"

She threw her arms around him. "It's my only brother—my only brother," she says to her companions, who wait for her. "Jack, are you a hospital case, or can you come with me? I have a flat, I can put you up. All right, wait for me inside on the first bench—I'll be through in half an hour."

Jack sat on the bench inside watching the crowds endlessly milling around him. He was surprised to meet his sister here when he believed her to be safe in Winnipeg. He wondered what had brought her to London—Eva, the luxury-loving, indolent Eva. It was strange to see her in plain uniform, carrying stretchers. But there was a high look on her face that transformed her. She looked more like the Eva he had known long ago.

Eva came for him at last and led him to the rear of the great station, where endless cars were parked, and put him into one which seemed very small and low.

"We pay a license according to wheel base, you know," she laughed; "and anyway, a car is a car, no matter how small it is. Oh, Jack, it's good to see you, and I have a bed ready for you. I've kept lots of the boys—I've been here six months."

Eva brought him to her flat in Malda Vale, and switched on a light, revealed a luxurious living-room, all in black and silver.

"Do you like it, Jack?" she asked with evident pride. "I work all day in misery and horrors so I have to have beauty at night."

A large black velvet divan, with round black cushions occupied one side of the room, the rug was black with a faint silver border—the fireplace black and white tiles, and on the mantel were silver candlesticks and a silver wrought image of the Madonna. On the black lacquered table stood a silver basket with American Beauty roses.

A slim maid appeared with coffee and sandwiches.

"We'll have a real meal later, Jack," said his sister. "And now tell me where you have been."

"First," said Jack, "tell me how you happened to come over?"

Eva laughed. "You will wonder, I know, but I couldn't stand it after the old crowd broke up—and I guess I missed Humphrey, too, though I won't admit it, because we had a row before he left, and he said things to me I shall never forget. But anyway, everyone was knitting and making bandages, and I couldn't get into it. So I rented the house and I can live easily here on the money. I really like the work I am doing, and I love the boys—they are so brave. I bring them home with me sometimes and write their letters and listen to their stories. I have one little extra room—and really, Jack, I never was so happy in my life. Now tell me your story."

Jack told her of his capture, imprisonment, escape, his friend Arthur Warner and his sacrifice.

Eva's eyes were filled with tears as she listened. "Oh, Jack, wasn't he brave? But why did he do it—why did he love you so?"

"It was not for me—it was his love for my wife!"

"Why, Jack, I didn't know you were married. Now begin at the beginning. Wait, do you want to go to bed first? You look pretty white. I mustn't let you tire yourself. You see I am a pretty good nurse now, and I know how to take care of people."

"No, I am fine," said Jack; "my shoulder is nearly well again. I have had two months in the hospital with it, and I want to tell you all about it."

Jack began with his meeting with Helmi at Eagle Mines; their marriage by the magistrate; the magistrate's objections, and his showing of the newspaper report.

Wool Grading Centre For Vancouver

Plans are reported to be on foot among sheep raisers to establish in Vancouver a wool grading centre, similar to that functioning in Trenton, Ontario, where at present most of the wool business of Canada is conducted. An authority states this would probably have the result of increasing the returns to the producer from 25 to 50 per cent.

Would Solve Anastasia Puzzle

Noted Historian Believes He Has Solution Of Controversy

Dr. Edward A. Walsh, S.J., vice-president of Georgetown University and a noted historian, believes he has in his possession a documental solution to the Grand Duchess Anastasia controversy.

Whether it will uphold the woman now in the United States, under the protection of William B. Leeds, Jr., and known as Madame Tchaikovsky, as a true daughter of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia, or brand her as an imposter, Dr. Walsh will not speculate.

He is certain the mass of documents and records which he recently brought to this country from Europe, will settle, at least in his own mind—whether or not the Grand Duchess escaped the massacre of the Imperial Russian family 10 years ago.

For the past seven years, the Jesuit priest has been conducting a historian's investigation into the facts surrounding the deaths of Czar Nicholas and his immediate family. His studies have carried him to Russia, Belgium, France, Austria, Switzerland, England and Italy.

Teeth and Health

Issued By The Canadian Dental Hygiene Council and Published By The Saskatchewan Dental Society

THE INCISORS

You are very particular to keep these eight front teeth (four upper and four lower), white and sound, so their function, then to you, would seem largely esthetical.

But they have another use from which they take their name—that is—to incise, or cut.

In your child you have seen them erupt with three distinct tips or tubercles, which by and by have worn down to leave a straight cutting edge.

This nothing is a purely normal development, being due to the calcification of the enamel covering from three separate centres. Now, you have noticed too, with perhaps no little concern, that upon eruption, the two upper front teeth (central incisors) seemed quite out of proportion to the size of the face, giving them an ungainly appearance.

But you must remember this—that while the face will grow larger, the teeth will not increase in size—so Nature has planned with foresight as you might have guessed.

Now try this; consult a mirror, and note the shape of your face. To which of the three types does it incline, tapering, oval or square? Then study the form of your upper central incisor—imagine it inverted, and observe that it conforms to the shape of your face. Nature is very attentive to details, ever striving for harmony.

Remember then, that you must give redoubled zeal to the care of these incisors, which are not merely useful, but are also an asset to your appearance, if rightly cared for.

The Columbia Ice Field

Now Included In Extension Made To Jasper National Park

The extension of 980 square miles made to Jasper National Park, Alberta, in 1927, brought the Columbus icefield within national park boundaries. This giant icefield, one hundred and twenty-five miles in extent, which is the mother of more than a score of glaciers, is surrounded by a galaxy of giant peaks and represents the very climax of the scenic and alpine features of the Rockies.

Demand For Irrigated Land

Evidence of the demand for irrigated land in Southern Alberta is the fact that the Canada Land and Irrigation Company find it necessary to open up another unit of the Vauxhall project to meet the demand, a step it was not planned to take until 1930.
